MAGAZINE

Two people — side by side — in the bonds of friendship,
Two hearts — acting as one — in the bonds of love.
A time to need,
A time to care,
A time to help.

I was the one who called, you were the one who answered.
I was the one who trusted, you were the reason why.
The knot has been tied with the rope we have woven with our friendship.

Here we stand now, strong in the bonds of Theta;
Here we will stand forever, strong in the bonds of love.
You have taken my hand and led me well,
Satisfaction is mine . . . but Theta is ours.

Do I understand Theta?
Well, I've lived it, studied it, abided
by it, and loved it.
I've given as much to Theta as I possibly could,
but I've received so much more and . . .
now I understand.
Theta is caring, hoping, wishing, wanting,
sharing, losing, winning, having, giving,
loving and missing.

Yes, now I understand . . .
Two Thetas — side by side — strong in the bonds of love . . .
US!

◆ Each year during Inspiration Week the pledges at North Dakota State University, are asked to write an article on what Theta means to them. In January of 1973 Debbie Smith Golubski wrote this poem "A Letter to My Big Sis", and ever since this has been used at the fireside during Inspiration Week.

The Year in Review, 1974-1975

◆ To keep the membership informed of the overall picture of our fraternity during the past year, I submit this "State of Theta" report.

Trends

College - A big swing back to the traditional . . . college students have a good balance between studies, fun, activities and service . . . higher percentage of students on financial aid and working while in school . . . students are goal-oriented and serious about preparing for careers . . . rejection of the "do your own thing" philosophy . . . joining is "in" - student organizations and activities . . . increasing interest in personal grooming and dress, diets and exercise classes . . . mass return from apartment living to fraternity houses and residence halls . . . better understanding and interaction with alumnae . . . great interest in growing house plants and learning stitchery . . . more time spent having fun together . . . return to a few silly activities similar to hazing . . . chapters formulating and abiding by security measures . . . revival of school spirit, support of school teams, Homecomings and even yearbooks . . . more responsibility assumed in membership obligations . . . apathy and lack of commitment being replaced by interest and involvement . . . many soap-opera fans.

Alumnae - more involvement in local philanthropies through service rather than purely financial support . . . age span in chapters and clubs widening - very young and "more mature" alumnae enjoying contact with each other . . . local fund-raising projects receiving excellent publicity and much acclaim when they give the community a needed service such as Santa's Houses and the Show House tours (this is invaluable PR for Thetas and the Greeks) . . . the women's movement is having its effect on alumnae groups as any potential leaders are going back to work or taking first jobs . . . programming, especially in larger chapters, features thought-provoking subjects, usually with local alumnae involved in interesting fields as speakers . . . alumnae in smaller communities are, without exception, the community leaders and involved in every phase of community life so their meetings tend to be more social - a time to relax and enjoy friends . . . the economic picture may affect the number of dues paying members but the year-end figures are not yet in.

Membership and Housing

Housing: 65 college chapters in houses - 58 owned by house corporations (4 on university land), 7 rented from university or an individual. Ten chapters have lodges (5 on university land). Seventeen chapters have suites or rooms (15 owned by university, 2 by individuals). One chapter has no quarters

Central Office

After 15 years in the same location, the Central Office staff under the supervision of Executive Secretary-Treasurer, Marjorie Beebe McAdams, accomplished the monumental task of moving our headquarters to its new location in Evanston . . . we were happy to welcome another Theta to the staff when Nancy Dorman Weess, Lambda, became Associate ES in November . . . with everything painted and redecorated and a sunny, southern exposure, we welcome all Theta visitors to the Chicago area.

WHAT THE FOUNDERS' AWARD MEANT TO ALPHA THETA

by Kristi Peterson

What does it mean to a scientist when he receives the Nobel Prize? How does a baseball team feel when they win the World Series? What does it mean to an author when his work is awarded the Pulitzer Prize? One might very well compare the answers to these questions when trying to explain what it meant to Alpha Theta to receive the Founders' Award.

One very important point to make is that every man and every member of the team in the examples above, strives to work toward the goals which can be achieved through his own human contribution. When one dedicates himself to these goals, his pride and satisfaction is derived when he sees the results of his efforts. This pride is deepened when he is recognized for his achievements.

The analogy seems appropriate in that Alpha Theta consists of 180 girls each striving individually to live up to the ideals of Kappa Alpha Theta and as a team working for a synthesis of effort, a pooling of human resources and talents, and together working towards what the four founding women had in their visions when Kappa Alpha Theta was chartered over a century ago.

Alpha Theta was not working towards an award. We are a fortunate chapter in that the Greek system is strong at the University of Texas. There exists a healthy, competitive spirit among the Greeks. Besides being the largest sorority on campus, Alpha Theta works hard to maintain her position as being one of the top sororities. In everything we undertake, we try to live up to what we know we are capable of. With a chapter this size, it isn't easy coordinating these efforts. It takes organized officers, input on everyone's part and above all, cooperation. It takes learning to roll with the punches, but once the momentum gets going—it's hard to stop!

Winning the Founders' Award gave us a tremendous sense of pride and excitement. It was the satisfaction of knowing we had worked hard and we had worked together. It was the pride to know we were members of a chapter which had excelled both on our campus and within our own national sorority.

The Founders' Award also brought with it the realization that it is necessary to set our goals even higher. Once a peak is reached, it is very easy to maintain a plateau. We need to continue to move forward, to broaden out existing programs and to implement new ones.

Every fall 50 new members are added to our chapter. It is then that their roots are planted and they grow under the direction of our excellent pledge education program. We feel Theta helps them to realize their fullest potential—and Theta's potential is realized in their enthusiasm and dedication.

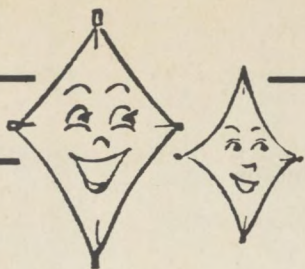

We've been lucky. The fraternity system is thriving, and we are supported by our alumnae and guided by a very dedicated advisory board. We are strong but we realize the future of our chapter lies in our own hands. We will continue to endeavor toward the goals and ideals the Founders' Award stands for.

P.S. From the Advisory Board Chairman Olwyn Davies Anderson

I would like to say what a delight it is to work with a Founders' Award chapter. The rewards are many—one of which I feel is that Alpha Theta could run itself without a single adviser for at least two years and still be as great.

It has been fun to watch the officers grow and develop, to observe the way the girls handle a chapter of 180, keeping up with everyone and if possible getting everyone involved in an office or on a working committee. It is interesting to see how all interests are served in a chapter this large through athletics, Bible study groups, scholarship attainment, social activities, campus organization, beauty recognition, etc.. Not everyone belongs to all, but hopefully everyone can find her niche.

I realize that I am one of the few and fortunate alumnae to have the opportunity to work with a college chapter. It is a rewarding, fulfilling and challenging job, but above all it is fun to watch the girls grow toward the "higher and broader demands of a mature life."

Good News

Electrifying

ALABAMA—"Remember to turn off your lights and radio," "Please turn the water off while brushing your teeth," and "Don't bother the thermostat!" have become familiar phrases with the Thetas at Alabama. We set up a conservation committee to try to cut down on our electric bill and received good results. The committee decided to have a "Conservation Week" to get the project started. During this week a contest was held between the two wings of the house and a speaker came and talked to us about conservation related to the energy crisis. If a light or radio was left on with no one in the room points were counted against that hall. The winning side received a prize donated from the losing side of the house. The speaker told us what to expect if we ran out of energy and things we could do to help prevent this. Our efforts were rewarded the first month with a bill reduced by $150 and the second month $300. We are proud of our contribution to help conserve energy and would like to encourage all other Theta chapters to become involved with this major problem.—JACKIE ORMAN

We're on Top

ARIZONA STATE—Does the Delta Epsilon Chapter ever have some go-o-od news! First of all, and there are going to be many firsts, upon arrival into Tempe for Rush, the actives found that Delta Epsilon Chapter was named first in the nation for work towards philanthropic projects. After a first-class rush, our chapter is proud to have such an exciting pledge class so full of interest, enthusiasm, and hard workers. In early October, Kohl's Ranch in Peyson, Arizona was the scene of a very lively Theta Retreat. Being up in the mountains, away from school, and with each other, refreshed the theme of love and togetherness for our sisterhood. Several major philanthropies have had us working regularly. These include: a Halloween party for the Sun Valley School for Mentally Retarded Boys, blood drives, stuffing and addressing envelopes for Planned Parenthood, canned food collection for LEAP, making enlarged tic-tac-toe games for MS, and coming up, hosting a Phoenix Suns basketball game for which we are promoting ticket sales for Indian Hills School of Phoenix, specializing in learning and reading problems. Another first for ASU Thetas was won in the Sigma Chi Derby Day events, taking first in games, entertainment, philanthropies, and having our pledge contestant named queen. Installation of the new officers will be in February. Saving the best for last to say about Delta Epsilon Chapter, is that the spirit of Theta is deep in our hearts.—PERNIE FALLON

Black Kat Ball

ARKANSAS—A Theta formal on the night after Halloween led Delta Nu's to name the event the 'Black Kat Ball.' The name of the dance — dreamed up by Karen Keller — was carried out in a Halloween theme. Decorations — bales of hay, jack-o-lanterns, and cutouts of black Halloween cats — gave a refreshing Fall atmosphere to the dance. This was the first Fall formal for Delta Nu's. It was such a success, that it has now become an annual event along with the Spring 'Twin Star' formal.—SALLY KIRBY

We're Blooming!

AUBURN—Theta spirit continues to bloom as Gamma Omega enters her eighteenth year. Second place in campus scholarship, 42 pledges, and the installation of Panhellenic President have all boosted Thetas morale sky high.

Disguised as cheerful goblins, our UNICEF campaign collected $222.37! During February we have volunteered to collect contributions from local businessmen for the Heart Fund Drive. Projects have been enthusiastically initiated to aid in the expansion of Auburn's Speech and Hearing Clinic services. Our favorite project consists of the clinicians guessing the number of M&M reinforcers in the jar, at a nickel a guess!

Yes, Gamma Omega continues to overwhelm the hearts of many with that special Theta love.—LORI PHILLIPS

Lose Here — Save There

CALIFORNIA-BERKELEY—At a recent chapter meeting, Omega voted to install a "diet table" at every dinner. With the economy in such a recessive state, we thought it would be wiser to keep the "lbs." off rather than buy new tent dresses. The procedure is to mark 'D' on the meal chart, thus insuring each member vegetables and meat dishes without creams and sauces. Starches and desserts won't be served and fresh fruit will become a way of life. "Temptation" will no longer be an excuse for breaking that diet!—CONNIE THODOS

Retreat

COLORADO—Who says that we have the best alumnae? We do. Our alumnae sponsored a two-day retreat in September to the YMCA camp in Estes Park, Colorado for the actives and pledges. We stayed in cabins, with four girls to a room. Arriving early Saturday morning, we had the day to do what we wanted. Some girls went into Estes Park to browse around, others went swimming, hiking, or to play basketball. That night we got together in the lodge for activities. There were games to get to know each other, skits, charades and snacks around the fire. Later on, we sang songs. To top the evening off, we had an inspiration, a time to think. After a brief meeting on Sunday, everybody left, feeling that the retreat had been worthwhile. Getting to know each other and having fun, is a part of sisterhood.—RADA YEVJEVICH

A Mom Who's More Than A Mom

COLORADO COLLEGE—The great news from the Beta Omega Chapter is our fantastic housemother, Mom Young. Finding time to talk to each girl has made her a unique friend to everyone. The uniqueness of the friendship is because she adds a mature dimension to our ideas. At Christmas, she spread her warmth to each member of the house by giving everyone a candle. She also has shared with us treats such as "some mores" when we were all studying hard for tests. But what we appreciate most is that she shares herself. People are sometimes taken for granted, but not people who constantly show love and caring.

SUSAN B. JOHNSON
KAY O'NEIL

Dinner guests at the Theta house at Depauw were men from the local fire and police departments, and emergency units.

We Cooperate

DEPAUW—Recently Alpha chapter entertained members of the Greencastle and Depauw fire, police and emergency units at a dinner at the chapter house. This is the third year we have given this dinner and is our way of thanking the units for their service to the community and the university.—DENISE BITTNER

Kites and Candy

DRAKE—It's that time of year again and Theta neophytes at Drake are anxiously awaiting initiation ceremonies in February. Initiation week, preceeding that special night, is filled with fun as well as serious activities. One fun thing that proves to be a favorite deals with each girl carrying a wooden kite and a bag of candy all week . . . at all times. When encountered by an active the neophyte offers her candy, asks her to sign the kite and she recites this small poem: "There isn't anything I wouldn't do for you . . . There isn't anything you wouldn't do for me . . . So why don't we do something for each other."—LYNDA MURPHY

Strengthening of a System

EASTERN KENTUCKY—Now that we are all quite involved with studies, open rush and a list of projects for the community, the semester seems to be passing by much too swiftly. The bright, new faces of our pledges reflect the pride and exuberance of the Delta Upsilon Chapter. Our Panhellenic Council is doing an excellent job unifying the Greek system here at Eastern. Greek spirit was boosted by a display of sorority and fraternity banners which was combined with an all Greek jersey day. Picture over 500 girls teaching each other spirited songs! We all had quite a time with our Greek sisters during the Panhellenic sponsored "song-swap."

We at Eastern are proud of our strengthening system but more so of the chapter unity we have achieved. We are forever striving for the best and are very proud to be part of such a rewarding organization.—JILL WING

Delta Zeta's Kite Fly

EMORY UNIV.—The Delta Zetas had the biggest Kite Fly ever on November 9, 1974, at Emory's Lullwater Park! Each pledge, having constructed her kite with the help of her three big sisters days before the event, competed in trying to get her kite off the ground. Later, 40 children from the Atlanta Girls' Club and other campus sororities joined us on a beautiful, sunny day. Sisters supplied cookies and lemonade to the exhausted but happy kite flyers. Incorporating our big pledge activity of Kite Fly into a service project and a Panhellenic activity was so successful and enjoyable that it will certainly continue to be a highlight for the Delta Zetas.—EVELYN LECROY

The Mad Mad-Hatters

FLORIDA—There are small hats, big-brimmed hats, crochet hats and top hats, but the hats at the Delta Theta Chapter are the most original ones you'll ever see.

"The Mad-Hatter" is this year's name for Delta Theta's annual theme party. Sisters and pledges are busy designing and decorating hats for their dates and themselves.

Pam Williams, Fraternity Trends, is busy planning the night's activities which will include original entertainment by the sisters.

Awards will be given to the sister and her date with the most creative or bizarre.—DEBBIE ERICKSON

Happy Hat Party

FLORIDA STATE—Beta Nu enjoys having a mom-daughter program instead of a big sister-little sister program. When the new pledges get their "moms" there are several days of clues in which the "mom" gives her daughter small gifts and clues as to her identity which may or may not be true. The last day of clues concludes with each "mom" making two identical hats, one having the daughter's name and the other having "mom" on it.

The "mom" hat is passed around the circle of sisters while the pledges sit in a group in the middle of the circle. A happy reunion results when the hat is finally placed on her "mom's" head.—ELAINE SHELTON

Caricatures Given

GEORGIA—Our pledges are such special people that we have an unusual surprise waiting for them on pledge night. As they enter the chapter room they are greeted by two walls lined with little girl caricatures of themselves done on poster paper. Each picture has the right color and length of hair of the new pledge and has her first name at the bottom of the poster. These pictures provide the pledges with an exceptional memoir of the day they pledged Gamma Delta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta. In the picture, a fall quarter pledge—Susan Clower—is holding her caricature.—FAE EPTING

Nu Thetas Rebuild

HANOVER—The tornado last April has Nu chapter still busily cleaning and repairing our newly rebuilt house. We are anxiously awaiting the arrival of some new pieces of furniture, wallpaper and small items that were demolished almost a year ago.

Despite the frustrations last spring and the inconveniences this fall and winter, Nu has made a wonderful new start with lots of spirit. In September the Thetas sold the most tickets of all of the living units, to the Indianapolis Symphony Benefit for "Trees for Hanover." This money is in use now for the reforestation of the campus. All of the homecoming committees this fall were headed by Thetas, also! Our most recent accomplishment that we are proud of is the new pledge class of 31 enthusiastic girls. With a new roof over our heads and renewed spirit, we're looking forward to many more good times together!—DEBBY MEEK

Serving the Community

IDAHO—When Beta Theta chapter heard that the offices of the Moscow Chamber of Commerce needed painting, they met with Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and organized a plan. Teams of five from each house were coordinated to work on a schedule of two hour intervals from seven o'clock in the morning until five o'clock in the afternoon. The offices, while not unusually large contained a tremendous amount of furniture and materials which had to be moved. Painting was more of a chore because of so much wood trim, cabinets and bookshelves that required patient brush work. Adding to the challenge was the fact that it had to be done in one day. The project was completed and the following comment made in a letter sent to Central Office from the Chamber of Commerce. "We have no way of knowing if our local group of Kappa Alpha Thetas is exceptional or if other chapters throughout the United States are as well organized, hardworking and unselfish as ours are, but they have nevertheless made quite an impact on our community that we feel you should know about."

Sincerely,
Larry Grupp, Manager

We're Involved

IOWA STATE—Individuals in our chapter are working hard but many girls working as a group, are involved in campus activities. For Greek Week, held in April, we are helping with publicity and the blood drive.

For Varieties, a talent contest between other Greek houses on campus, we wrote and performed an original skit "Free to Be You and Me" based on Marlo Thomas' work by the same name. The skit consisted of dancing, singing and acting like little kids, accompanied by a small band and piano. We performed with Delta Tau Delta fraternity. If our skit is chosen as one of the top three finalists out of ten others, we will perform at the Varieties Sweepstakes Show. We are all anxiously awaiting the results.—ELLEN CLEAVELAND AND KRISTI BROM

Roughing It

MARYLAND—This year Gamma Mu discovered the outdoor life. Britt Walderhaug, our pledge trainer, along with her great committee, organized a retreat for our pledges, but included everyone in the house. We stayed in a lodge at a summer camp on the Chesapeake Bay. A scavenger hunt began the day, followed by a number of craft projects, including decorations for the house and small Theta plaques. The weather was crisp but the fireplace kept us warm on the outside, while hot chocolate kept us warm on the inside. With evening came a carpet of sleeping bags. Big-sisters and little-sisters gave us a Variety show and afterwards joined in activities involving the whole house. Soon we all drifted into Theta-slumberland, telling secrets and giggling all the way. On Monday, when we spoke of the Pledge Retreat, it brought forth many good feelings in everyone. It helped us see what Theta love really can do for a house — and what it has done for ours. It was a great weekend and we can't wait to go back. I'm sure we'll find the same sisterhood shine out again and become even stronger the next time.—TERI DOSEK

"It's not the Rosebowl, but . . ."

MICHIGAN—With the many bowl games in existence today, one that is not particularly well-known is the "Mudbowl," played every year on Homecoming weekend in Ann Arbor. Undoubtedly one of the most traditional of the bowl games, and certainly the most unusual, the "Mudbowl" isn't very different from the other games, except that it is played in a foot or more of mud. A "happening" for the past 40 years, the regular football game is played between two neighboring fraternities and during halftime, Eta Thetas play soccer against another sorority. While we practice and get in shape, the guys prepare the field, flooding it for weeks beforehand. We have pep rallies, coaches, cheerleaders, and even a team physician! The morning of the game there is a high-spirited, morale boosting breakfast and then we go out to "play in the mud" while our parents watch the fun. Thus Homecoming weekend begins and tradition continues.—ANN RIOUX

Creativity and Imagination!

MICHIGAN STATE—Thimbles, needles, embroidery floss, and imagination are busy in the Beta Pi chapter as the Fall term '74 pledges attempt to keep their big sisters in stitches...the stitches in this case adorning 'workshirts'. Each shirt is truly a work of art, decorated with various embroidery patterns, lace, and appliques. Quite a unique big sister gift!

In addition, the actives were presented with a variety of houseplants each in its own hand decorated pot. The green thumb project was a way of expressing our thanks and love to those who mean so much to us.—CAROLE SWEETLAND

Alpha Mu Forms Reading Circle

MISSOURI—Alpha Mu Thetas make it a practice to really live and learn together, and this semester we have started a new reading club. About 10 pledges and actives meet every two weeks with Mom Hardy and our new president, Pat Klein, to read books such as Women in Love by D. H. Lawrence, Anthem by Ayn Rand, Crime and Punishment by Dostoyevsky and Narcissus and Goldeman by Herman Hesse. Participants in the reading circle check these books out at the library or share copies with one another. At the meetings, they discuss underlying themes and relevance to our "here and now" experiences.—CINDY POLLARD

Cookies Shine On

MONTANA—A special tradition of Alpha Nu are our "cookie shines". Held right before initiation it is probably the most effective part of inspiration. With the lights turned off all the girls stand in a circle. A pan sized cookie, decorated with our Greek letters, and a lighted candle are held by the pledge trainer. After she welcomes everyone the cookie is passed around the circle. As each girl receives the cookie she shares her thoughts about Theta—a poem or saying, or a wish to the pledges. As she passes the cookie on she breaks off a piece. While the cookie makes its circle everyone feels a special closeness. There are few dry eyes as it returns to the pledge trainer and we sing "Remember the Black and Gold".—KATHY SKILLERN

New Ideas for New Mexico

NEW MEXICO—Our Theta chapter, Gamma Omicron, is giving the Auntie Mame idea, which was introduced at convention, a try. Each active and pledge was assigned an 'Auntie Mame' by the president of our advisory board. The alumnae chapter was more than willing to oblige, and consequently there were more alumnae who signed up than members. Relations between the active chapter and the alumnae are at an all time high!

The eight sororities at the University of New Mexico are trying to further better relations between each of the separate groups. As a start, secret sisters were assigned to each girl who so desired one. Each sorority posted lists for their members who wished to participate, and the turn-out was fantastic. The girls can do whatever they want for their secret sis, such as sending cards, writing notes, etc. The identity of the secret sisters will be revealed in December.—SUZANNE DAUT

All Our Children

NORTH CAROLINA—Delta Xi Thetas literally are a close-knit family and within are many families, all dating back to our chapter's founding in 1966. Our mother-daughter tradition accents our Theta bond of warmth and friendship. At the Mother-Daughter Breakfast, a surprise early morning event, each pledge gains a "mother" and is also given gifts and a yellow ribbon. She must then have every sister and pledge sign the ribbon before she is initiated. When that is accomplished her "mother" attaches the ribbon — or call it a kite-tail — to a kite shaped pillow she has made for her "daughter".—MARY VIRGINIA CURRIE

Happiness is a mother and daughter meeting.

A Welcome Greeting

NORTH DAKOTA STATE—A tradition for Gamma Nu chapter at NDSU is to have the front window help greet our guests and passersby. For every special occasion and season a new picture and saying is painted on the window.

For example, during rush we had the Peanut's characters. After pledging all the new pledges were announced around Snoopy and Woodstock. It helped us to welcome home the alumnae during Homecoming, and we are always assured of a happy face to greet us upon the return of a final test. Our window has proven to be the topic of conversation and an attention getter on the NDSU Campus.—RACHEL NELSON

A happy face to greet all those who enter the Theta house at North Dakota State.

Greek Unity at Homecoming

OHIO—When alumnae think of returning to the campus for homecoming, they think of coming back to support those "Battling Buckeyes" and returning home to the Theta house. Homecoming weekend was a great chance for all of us to see our old friends and meet parents and friends of the new pledges. Homecoming is a time when the entire campus unites toward one certain goal. Part of the all-Greek participation for the week's festivities included competing in a float contest with other sororities and fraternities, an all campus pep rally and cheering the Bucks on to a triumphant victory over Indiana.—ANNETTE ARGUE

Greek Spirit is on the Rise

OKLAHOMA STATE—Greek spirit is on an uphill climb. We had more girls going through rush this year than ever before, and the fraternities seem to be keeping right up! The division which was once so prominent between Greeks and Independents no longer exists as it once did. Both groups seem to respect the other in the choice they make to be themselves. Even within the Greek System itself, there no longer seems to be the high competition there once was between houses. At O.S.U. Greeks have built up a good reputation which, we hope, will continue to spread.—TAMARA ANDERSON

PJ Fireside

OREGON STATE—To our chapter, a retreat can be any organized house activity that lasts for a day or for even a couple of hours. This term the sophomores brought all of us closer together with a PJ Fireside held in our living room late one Sunday night. With a fire glowing in the fireplace, 80 Theta sisters, dressed in pajamas, watched hilarious skits, sang songs for the freshmen to learn and listened to inspiring words of friendship and love. An unexpected surprise came with a candle passing. This fireside was a great way to start off Winter term in rainy Oregon.—ANN DANEKE

Alumnae Help Chapter Spirit

PENN STATE—The Beta Phi Alumnae Club has been active in helping our collegiate chapter by providing home baked goodies for our major rush parties of each term. The baked goods were appreciated and enjoyed by all rushees and sisters.

The Alumnae Club outdid itself this year in planning our traditional Founders' Day program. They planned a luncheon buffet featuring salads and casseroles, our favorites! Afterwards the alumnae, together with the sisters, took part in a ritualistic ceremony honoring the founders. The attendance was the best in years, and everyone agreed that the program was a success in stirring up Theta spirit.—DIANE MALOSKEY

Alpha Chi's Fly High

PURDUE—As Alpha Chi's 33 pledges near initiation this spring, the sky will become black and gold in West Lafayette. The annual pledge-mom-pledge-daughter kite fly begins our inspiration week for these "Thetas to be".

Each "mom" paints a kite to resemble the Theta pin, then places her name and her daughter's name in the extra space. The Slaytor Center Hill at Purdue fills quickly with the black and gold kites, as each girl hopes her kite will fly the longest; that is if the trees don't get the kite first!—VALYNDA FAIRCHILD

Governor's Hostesses

TEXAS—Late last spring preparations began for the Southern Governor's Conference to be held here in Austin in the fall. Hundreds of students applied to be hosts and hostesses for the event. We were very proud when six of the 30 selected were Alpha Thetas. The hosts and hostesses went through a series of training sessions. Before the Conference began they all moved out to Lake-way Resort, where the Conference was held. It was an exciting week for our girls. They were assigned to different governors, with their goal to show them Texas hospitality.—CAROL DAVIS

A Busy Year

TEXAS TECH—Gamma Phi Thetas have had a funfilled, but busy year: Fiji Olympics, SAE Watermelon Bust and the annual Christmas party with the Fiji's and students from the Lubbock State School. A special presentation at Founders' Day was meaningful to both alumnae and actives. Our new College District President, Sharon Wooldridge, visited with the chapter and shared her warmth and new ideas. The alumnae and collegians are involved with preparation for the District Convention which we will hostess in Lubbock this spring. Chapter

Retreat promises special entertainment from the talented members and the annual skit from each of the pledge classes.—KATHY CALLAWAY

For Pledges Only

TULSA—Our pledge trainer for this year, Debbie Peters, used many new and successful programs. Among them was a pledge retreat held on a Saturday morning in the chapter lodge. The event was kicked off with a breakfast, after which the pledges divided into small discussion groups to talk about themselves, their pledge sisters and the meaning of Kappa Alpha Theta. Fun was added with groups making up skits with different articles given to them. At the close of the retreat the pledges joined together in song.—ELIZABETH WEDDELL

We Make an Award

UTAH—Delta Lambda chapter was honored to receive the Forward Award for Chapter with a House, at the 1974 Grand Convention. The amount of $350 which we received for the most improved sorority within the last two years, is to be awarded during Greek Week this spring. The applicant must be a woman (undergraduate or graduate) studying in the field of our fraternity's philanthropy. She must have a grade point average of 2.5, plan on a career in the field of Speech Pathology and Audiology, and be an active member or alumna of a Greek sorority. The money must be applied to tuition and books and will be available Fall Quarter, 1975. Applications will be reviewed by the Greek Week Scholarship Committee, an alumnae adviser of Kappa Alpha Theta, and by the president and vice-presidents of Delta Lambda chapter.—LISA VELIE

Exercise Anyone?

VANDERBILT—Theta's at Vandy are vigorously getting into shape for a probable week of fun in the sun. With Spring break a mere month away, thoughts of the beach and bikinis are quickly entering everyone's mind. With Bitsy Stoneburner leading the group, we are slowly but surely grunting our way to our swim suit sizes. Monday through Thursday from 10:00 to 10:30 is the moment of 'ruth: who have been victims of the lazy winter months? Those of us with aches and pains the next morning are the guilty ones! It's a fun way to get in shape, or if you are one of the more fortunate, to stay in shape. Ready girls? 1, 2, 3, 4, 1, 2, 3, 4 . . . —JEAN POPP

Vanderbilt Thetas stretch to keep in shape.

Theta Kites Fly High

WILLIAM AND MARY—March is kite flying month and Beta Lambda doesn't want to be left out. So, every March after our Spring pledge class has received their big sisters, our chapter has a Big Sister-Little Sister kite fly on a large campus athletic field. The "families" work together on the kites, often combining talents to make some really fancy ones special only to their own family. After the kite fly, it's back to the house for sundaes. We always have a great time and it's ideal for drawing the pledges closer to their new Theta family.—KATHY WAGSTAFF

LEGACIES -

A Treasure

National Panhellenic Conferences

Research has shown that most legacies tend to be strong, active loyal members and are often found among the officers. Families usually share similar ideals which indicates that each legacy may possess added potentiality for membership. The college chapters value a Theta legacy and try to place her to best advantage, being always aware that a legacy does not want to be taken for granted but chosen for herself as a congenial valuable person who will be a contributing member of the group. It is sad when we lose a Theta legacy but we are always glad when she pledges a chapter of another fraternity in which she may feel a part. That's what fraternity membership means - happiness, sincerity, pride and standards of excellence to work toward in a sisterhood. Theta chapters like to pledge legacies of other women's fraternities. We know their background too, is founded on developing the individual to the fullest, yet with concern for others.

The pledging of legacies is accompanied by renewed alumnae interest and support. Good alumnae relations are important to every chapter. Serious consideration of legacies, engendered by loyalty to sister members, is appreciated by alumnae even though most of them now realize that because of the increased number all legacies cannot be pledged. A number of our chapters began to have almost as many - and sometimes more - legacy rushees as the total number the chapter was allowed to pledge. Chapter members realized that since all legacies who were invited to preference must be on the first bid list there would not be room for non-legacies in whom they were deeply interested. Many began to feel that the traditional legacy policy was working against the legacy. Therefore, to prevent hasty and unwise decisions to cut legacies early in rush without getting to know them, the fraternity provided for a change to the traditional policy for certain chapters who have requested it after consultation with their rush adviser and College District President. When such permission is given the chapter notifies alumnae and Rush Recommendation Boards which usually supply the chapter with recommendations.

My advice to mothers and sisters and grand-mothers of future legacies would be: prepare the legacy to be open-minded and receptive to all groups, without in any way diminishing her regard for Theta, so that if there is not a place for her in Theta she will not shut out fraternity experience in another group. Mutual choice is the happiest situation and makes for the happiest member.

Open Wide - Your Doors and your HEARTS

Theta is commitment, responsibility, loyalty and love. Theta embraces enthusiasm, organization, efficiency and friendship.

Make every girl feel welcome. Let her remember Thetas as friends even if she doesn't pledge.

Being an attentive listener usually encourages a rushee to talk. Be sincere!

Remember membership selection is a sharing of responsibility by active members and alumnae.

Be a gracious hostess, poised but friendly in treating each rushee as an individual.

Theta lasts a lifetime - as an active member and an alumna.

People caring for people no matter their difference in ages, bound by the ties of Theta friendship and love. Theta provides a close-knit group where members care about the individual as well as the group.

These are the years of friendship - a friendship of caring, sharing, learning, growing, communicating - and FUN.

Happiness is a WELCOME to each new pledge.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE OF COLLEGE RUSH INFORMATION

46

General Information: In an effort to improve our reference program for the college chapters and alumnae, only college rush information is printed in this summer magazine. The list of Rush Recommendation Boards and Authorized Rush Representatives, with addresses and telephone numbers, was sent in booklet form to college chapter rush chairmen, rush advisers and fraternity officers in the spring. It is hoped that this will provide a more thorough, compact source for reference. The complete fraternity directory will appear in the fall issue of the magazine.

ALUMNAE:

Theta's 4th Leadership Conference

From the Grand President

This is a special invitation to the fourth Kappa Alpha Theta Leadership Conference. For many years we have held biennial Grand Conventions with workshops for college delegates. It is our belief that the value of a national meeting with training sessions is such that they should be held every year, if possible. With time and programs condensed, we hope to give you what amounts to a mini-convention at Oberlin. "Emphasis on Excellence" is the Theme and we look forward to meeting and working with you for the advancement of our fraternity.

Loyally and affectionately,
Martha Smith White

THETAS BEHIND THE MAN

by Betty Eidson Fallin

While summer rush is drawing the attention of College Thetas at this time of the year, Theta alumnae will continue to observe the fraternity ideals which seem to bring Thetas and their families into places of leadership across the country. This summer for Thetas with attorney husbands who are planning a trip to the American Bar Association Convention in Montreal, Canada. For come August 8, a Theta husband, father, brother, uncle and cousin, James Davison Fellers, of Oklahoma City, will preside as President of the American Bar Association, an organization of 180,000 members. He's the husband of Theta, Margaret Ellen Randerson Fellers, Alpha Omicron, Oklahoma, nicknamed Randy.

From the start, Randy has been behind Jimmie 100% as he rose through the ranks to his present position of leadership. When they were married in 1939, their honeymoon was a trip to the American Bar Association meeting in San Francisco. They've been a real team ever since. Randy plans her husband's travel schedule, goes with him to all the multiple bar meetings, sees that his wardrobe is ready for each trip, but most of all she is a gracious and cordial hostess at the many social functions given by the wives and couples in each city they visit.

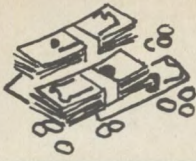

Since Jimmie became president in Hawaii last

August, he and Randy have visited over 40 states and have represented the ABA at International Bar Meetings in Paris, London, Brazil, Acapulco and Vancouver. Upon leaving Hawaii, they flew directly to New Zealand and then to Australia to study the law systems there, then on to Costa Rica. They are on the go every week returning to Oklahoma City for only a few days at a time. "It is a wonderful experience for me traveling with him," says Randy enthusiastically. "I have met so many wonderful people and have also heard so many great speeches, it is a tremendous learning experience."

The Fellers have three children and seven grandchildren. There are two Theta daughters, Kay Lynn Fellers Pellow and Lou Ann Fellers Street. Their son is James Davison Fellers Jr., known as Dave. Grandchildren are John, Joe, Jimmy and Jennifer Pellow; Bryan and Brad Street and Stacia Fellers.

Other Thetas in the family are Jimmie's sister, Lucy Ellen Fellers Grant, San Antonio; nieces Gretchen Grant Jackson, Salado, Texas and Sally Grant, Fort Worth, Texas; two cousins, Carolyn Savage, Hominy, Oklahoma and Carin Savage, now attending Oklahoma State University at Stillwater, Oklahoma.

With this many Thetas behind him, Jim Fellers' success is assured!

CAMPUS KIDNAPING

by Susan E. Green

It was a cold, rainy November dawn as Delta Pi Thetas and members of Kappa Alpha fraternity accomplished the kidnaping of the University of Tennessee's Chancellor Jack Reese. Onlookers crowded outside the tower where Chancellor Reese's office is located, awaiting the "gangsters" who would spirit him away.

Finally, Dr. Reese whose hands were bound behind his back, was brought out by three notorious looking KAs and one shotgun-wielding "moll" (Theta Jeanne Broussard). One brave KA, in an attempt to rescue Dr. Reese with an umbrella, was shot with an realistic sounding blank gun. The kidnap victim was hustled into the trunk of a 1949 black car and whisked away amid cheers of success from Theta and KA spectators.

This stunt, during Homecoming Week at the Univ. of Tennessee, was the first step in an effort to raise money for the Knoxville Sunshine Learning Center for Mentally Retarded Children. The Center had recently built a new building and needed equipment. So the next three days were busy ones as we collected "ransom" money donated by students, faculty members, alumni and Knoxville businesses.

After the kidnaping which of course was prearranged with Dr. Reese, he was taken to the airport where he and several other university officials flew to Washington for a meeting. This trip out of town gave the dire deed an added feeling of authenticity. Before leaving, Dr. Reese had made tapes urging people to donate money to get him back for the homecoming game against Kentucky. With the cooperation of two radio stations, these tapes were played repeatedly during the week. The kidnaping was given publicity from Knoxville TV stations and newspapers.

The Thetas and KAs stationed themselves at various locations across campus and also canvassed from door-to-door raising money for the ransom. All week every Theta and every KA sported a hat and a button urging everyone to "Bring Back Jack."

At the Super Pep Rally held four nights after the kidnaping, the get-away car made its way through the crowd and the gangsters gave Chancellor Reese back to Tennessee.

Over $1,200 was raised for the Sunshine Center and we had a lot of fun doing it. But the real success of the stunt was due to the complete cooperation of all those who gave so generously of both their time and their efforts.

Straight "A" Thetas

Chance favors . . . the prepared mind.—PASTEUR

A silver scholarship charm (note pic) was awarded each Theta whose name is starred who made an "A" for the entire 1973-74 school year. Others made straight "A" for a semester or two consecutive terms.
